THE CITY'S FINANCIAL CONDITION

Jacksonville has a floating debt of $131,000.

There are just three ways by which this debt can be discharged: By repudiation.

By a subscription fund.

By the issuance of bonds.

The financial statement prepared for the city by the Price-Waterhouse Co. was made public at a meeting of the city council last night. At the same time Mayor Crabtree presented a running summary of financial facts and conditions, with the end in view of giving to citizens all possible light on the question. When this administration went into power it was with the avowed intention of publishing the financial statement just as soon as possible. The report is necessarily voluminous and is printed in full elsewhere in this issue. Summed up, the report shows a floating indebtedness of approximately $131,000 and that the necessary expenditures for the current year will be at least $16,000 in excess of the revenues. This estimate is made after taking into account various economies that the city administration is practicing.

One of the first acts of the administration was to cut off 20 per cent from the salaries of employees which had been added in the effort to make it possible for employees to cash their salary warrants. The fact that the officials are serving without pay is effecting an annual saving of $8,000, by comparison with annual expenditures under the commission form of government. But notwithstanding these economies the necessary expenditures are estimated for the year show a deficit of something more than $16,000. The council has evidently prepared the statement and set forth all the facts for the purpose of letting the people know exactly what the situation is, and further, with the hope that knowing the situation, the people will come forward with some suggestion as to the best course to be followed.

It is very clear that little or nothing can be accomplished until some means is found of taking care of the floating debt. No one questions the validity of the claims against the city which aggregate more than $131,000. Those to whom the city owes money can bring suit if they so desire and the city could do nothing but go into court and confess judgment. These legal proceedings would mean court costs and further, the judgments against the city would immediately bear interest under the law. A business man with numerous suits filed against him, with court records filled with judgments, has no financial standing and an accomplished nothing. So far as business is concerned he might just as well quit until something is done to clear the record. He may continue to run his business in a hand to mouth way and without the confidence or support of those with whom he does business. But he cannot go forward, he cannot accomplish results and his condition continues to grow worse unless something is done to clean up.

So as the council has rightly suggested, the people now have the financial facts and it is their duty to join with the council in solving various questions in determining the policy to be followed in deciding just what shall be done to meet the financial obligations. The auditing company in its statement does not suggest the manner in which the indebtedness should be met. The mayor in his statement did not suggest the course to be followed. He merely presented the facts, with the evident expectation that subsequent discussion would bring forth the suggestion as to the best ways and means.

Manifestly the city cannot repudiate its debts. It cannot go into bankruptcy and be absolved from its obligations. The financial slate must be cleaned in some other way. Manifestly too, this great floating debt cannot be paid on the installment plan out of the revenues from year to year, for the revenues now are not sufficient to meet the current expenditures. So to discharge the city's debt there are only two methods possible: to transfer the floating debt to a bonded debt and pay it off thru a period of ten or twenty years, or to "pass the hat" and by private subscription raise $131,000 to discharge the debt. In East St. Louis and some other cities the records show that, to relieve serious financial conditions citizens contributed to a large fund and paid off the city debt. That plan might be followed here but it is very questionable if there is enough local support of such a proposition to make it practicable.

If citizens are not disposed to contribute to such a fund there remains but one way to pay the city's floating debt, and that is by a bond issue whereby the burden could be distributed thru a period of years. A bond issue is really fairer to the public than the subscription method for thru a bond issue the burden will be shared equally and the payments so distributed that no one would be embarrassed.

From the statement made last night the council is desirous of knowing the people's wishes. Therefore the people should study all the facts, make inquiries about any points which are not clear and then let the council know whether they favor the issuance of bonds, or the taking of a great subscription fund to pay the debts, or repudiation.

TIPS TO BE UNPOPULAR

Here is one cheerful prophecy on living costs, for the hotel-keepers association believes that the tipping custom will soon disappear when the country becomes entirely dry. Altho "tipping" is now the custom in many times it was a by-product of tipping. Be that as it may, everybody will welcome anything that will cut down the cost of daily living.

THE SAME OLD THEME

Talking about the ever-absorbing theme of living costs, a really serious situation is presented to the wage earner of today. It has been bad enough during the war time for the average man to make expenses and income meet, but there is now a rising tendency in the cost of necessities. Recent markets have shown the highest prices on record for pork and some foodstuffs. There is something psychological about the prices of necessities and you never see the price of one necessity on a high level without that condition being reflected in other commodities. While the very high prices have prevailed for footwear and clothing, dealers do not hesitate to say that the prices which have been paid will be low by comparison with the prices still in prospect.

This is not the fault of the retailer. It is simply a condition which the retailer must meet and then pass on to the consumer. In fact, it is a bad condition for the retailer, who is naturally afraid to stock up in a normal way with very high priced goods when he is confronted with the possibility that the market might take a sudden turn and he be found with his shelves full of goods bought at prices away above the normal levels.

It is difficult to see just what the average citizen is going to do to keep living expenses within revenues unless the government finds some means for lowering prices and bringing the costs of necessities more nearly within the buying power of the average consumer. It's an old theme, you say, but nevertheless it's getting to be a mighty serious one. There is a limit to all these things and it remains for some influence to arise which will keep prices on a more equitable basis.

THE WILSON PHRASES

A hasty perusal of President Wilson's statement to the senate with reference to the League of Nations reveals nothing of a sensational kind. However, one cannot but be impressed even more than before with the idealistic phrases that the president uses.

Think, for example, of President Roosevelt saying that "if the League of Nations is rejected the world's heart will be broken." And to quote again the language of the president: "The world has offered the U. S. moral leadership," but that does not alter the fact that such leadership would bring with it surpassing responsibility and the near certainty of involving the U. S. in the affairs of the old world.

Rippling Rhymes
By Walt Mason

Anger.

The blood was boiling in my veins, my lawn was spoiled by Johnson's steers; I felt a sizzling in my ears that day my little nephew, Pete, was taking snap shots 'round the place; and, in his guileless way and sweet, he made a picture of my race. He laid the picture on my knee, when it was printed and complete; I glanced at it and cried, "Oh, cheer! That's not my map, so help me Pete!" But when I looked again I saw it was my mug deformed by ire; the foam was flecked upon my jaw, my eyes were like a house afire. My fangs were bared, as tho to bite, my hair like bristles stood on end, I saw myself a holy fright, a wild beast built to tear and rend. "Oh, Pete," I said, "you bet your hat, I never again shall yield to rage; the fact that I have looked like that, will keep me humble till old age. I never knew that anger made man's face a thing to swell one's sleep; so now we'll take your little spade, and plant that picture cubits deep." And now I keep my rage in check when dire misfortunes are the rule; I die cracked ice upon my neck, and fan myself, and thus keep cool.

With the Sick

Mrs. May Ferguson Hitt and sister, Miss Nellie Ferguson, who returned two weeks since from a visit in Columbus, Ohio, have both been ill but are now much improved. Mrs. Hitt was a patient at Passavant hospital but was able to return Monday to her home at 610 West State street. Both she and Miss Ferguson became ill with severe colds which later developed into slight attacks of pneumonia. Their many friends will be glad to know that they are now well on the road to complete recovery.

The trip to Columbus was made primarily for a visit with their brothers, H. H. and W. B. Ferguson, and families. However, the Jacksonville residents while in Columbus attended sessions of the great Methodist Centenary. Mrs. M. Hagaman is still sick at the home of her daughter, Mrs. L. H. Callaway. Mrs. Hagaman was stricken with partial paralysis of the throat four weeks ago. It was expected to take her to her home in Decatur this week, for medical treatment, but Mrs. Hagaman remains in such a weak condition it was thought best to postpone the trip. Dr. Smith of Chapin has charge of her case. The nurse who is caring for Mrs. Hagaman is her granddaughter, Nellie R. Callaway, R. N.

MISS ROGERSON TO BE SEPTEMBER BRIDE

Well Known Young Woman Will Wed Eugene Harlow, a Kansas Banker.

The engagement of Miss Agnes Rogerson to Mr. Eugene B. Harlow of Kingman, Kans., was made known to a group of Miss Rogerson's intimate friends at a very pretty luncheon given Thursday at 1 o'clock with Mrs. George S. Rogerson and Mrs. H. C. Woltman as the hostesses. When the twelve young ladies assembled at the table a rosebud was found beside each cover, with two hearts attached giving the initials of the young people who are soon to wed and the date of the marriage, September 3.

Ward roses were used as decorations in the dining room, the handsome centerpiece being designed from these radiant blossoms. In the other rooms of the house sweet peas and Shasta daisies were used effectively. A four course luncheon was served. Miss Rogerson, who is the younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George S. Rogerson, graduated from the Woman's college and subsequently became an instructor in home economics in the Jacksonville high school and in the junior high school. For several years she has filled the position on faculty of these schools with unusual success.

Mr. Harlow, who is a graduate of the university of Kansas, is now cashier of the First National Bank of Kingman, Kans. The friendship of these two young people began some years ago when the Rogerson family was resident in Kingman and has continued thru the years. As Mr. Harlow has several times been a visitor in Jacksonville a number of people here have met him and have come to know something of his worth. They are sure that he is fortunate indeed in winning the hand of this very attractive and popular Jacksonville young woman.

As indicated above, this important marriage event will be solemnized Wednesday, September 3.

TELLS OF VISIT WITH RELATIVES IN DUBLIN

Leo J. Lockhart, with U. S. Army in France, Describes Recent Visit with Relatives in Ireland —Expected to Start for Home June 15.

The letter which appears below is one which has recently been received by Miss B. C. Lockhart of Route 3, from her brother, Leo J. Lockhart, written June 10 from Dublin, Ireland. The writer tells of his recent visit with relatives in the great Irish City, and said that he expected to leave St. Nazaire, France, on June 15, with other members of his company for home. The letter reads as follows:

Dear Sister: I am in Dublin, Ireland. Arrived here Saturday the 7th, about 8 p. m. Left St. Nazaire Thursday night at 8:30. It took a good while to come the way they sent me. From St. Nazaire I went to Paris (by rail), from Paris to Boulogne (by rail), from there across the channel to Folkestone, England, from there to London (by rail), from London to Holyhead, Eng. (by rail), from Holyhead to Kingstown Ireland, (by boat). At Kingstown we got on an Irish train and came to Dublin about six miles.

When I arrived in Dublin there was a fellow driving a two wheel cart. He asked me if I was going to the K. C. hall and I asked him if there was a K. C. hall here. He said there was indeed, so on the cart I got and he put me down at his house and we were soon there. They have a fine place. The K. C. hall was told me he could give me a bed down below as everything was full on account of a big strike at the hotels, so while I was waiting there I was talking with a man who said he used to be a doctor in Louisville, Ky., and is now practicing dentistry in Dublin. He wanted to know who I was going to visit here. I told him and asked him where Dolly, my cousin, was. He told me to get my coat and hat and come with him as he knew right where the place was. As it was then 9:30 I wanted to wait till morning, but he wouldn't let me, so we got on the street car and came about three miles, got off and walked just a few steps to Thos. Verling's store, rang the door bell and he asked, "Who was there?" The doctor, "A man all the way from America," so Mr. Verling came out and brought me in and after he found out who I was he and his wife nearly went wild. We didn't get to bed at all that night.

The next day (Sunday) we went to 12 o'clock mass; from there went to Thos. Verling's brother's not far from here. Aunt Ellen Verling is staying there as his wife is sick. She has been staying here and this is her room I am staying in now. Mr. Verling said we would surprise his brother out. After meeting him he also said we would surprise Aunt Ellen so went in. There she was in the kitchen washing dishes just as you find "ma." So Tom told her I was an English soldier and wanted something to eat. She said I would find plenty in England.

After she found out who I was she was so surprised she could not talk for some time. She was here yesterday evening. I came all the way by herself and went back last night. She would like very well to stay here while I am here but Patrick Verling's wife is very sick and she don't like to leave her. She wants me to go to Newbridge with her before I go back and see her daughter. She is a sister of charity there. We are thinking about going Thursday. She says she is not going to let me leave here and says I will have to stay with her all the time. I suppose I will have a time getting away, but they told me when I left they might send me a telegram any day as they are expecting to leave June 15 or before, but I don't think there is any danger of that as they have been talking about going home since Christmas.

I was sure surprised when my furlough came in for Ireland. I had just got back from my other one at St. Malo and had a splendid time there but they told me I could go if I wanted to, it was up to me, so I got ready. Only had one hour to get ready and make the train so I went to it. Most of the boys told me not to come as I would be worn out by the time I got back to the states, but anything to see Dublin. And it is sure a beautiful city, the greatest I have seen yet and the people are all nice.

We went to the horse racing yesterday and talk about times. I never had such a grand time and saw so many people. There were some fast horses entered and big stakes up. I made a little bet myself on a mare called Lady Lover and won so it paid me to come to Dublin.

Mr. Verling has a nice home here, hot and cold water, bath room and a pretty little store. He gets a big trade and is sure a nice man. He looked his store up yesterday and took me to the races and wanted back me to keep it closed all while I was here and I wouldn't let him. There is horse racing to day also. Dublin is located on Dublin Bay. I see the tide is coming in now. It is only a few steps from the window and you can see the whole bay from my room here where I am writing. I was out there last night taking a walk and saw a fellow that was exactly the picture of that second hand furniture man in Virginia. I thought for awhile it was him. Pete can tell you who I mean.

Well, I will close for this time as I could write here for a week and then would not tell you half what I have seen. You can prepare yourself for a long story when I get back. I expect to see more of London and Paris on my way back as we are entitled to 24 hours if we wish to tour those cities. We expect to start home June 15 from St. Nazaire, so I will leave here not sooner than next Monday, as that is what my pass calls for unless I get a telegram. They all send their best regards from here. Aunt Ellen isn't here or I guess she wouldn't take a long time anyway for me to write all she has told me to tell ma, and she isn't done yet.

Will try and get up town and get some post cards if I can get away from here. Will be home soon. All well.

COUNCIL TELLS ABOUT THE CITY'S FINANCES

Statement Shows Floating Debt of $131,000—Citizens Asked to Express Views of Way to Meet Conditions.

If you do not want to have a personal invitation to express your views on city affairs you had better keep away from city council sessions. At the special meeting last night, when the financial statement with reference to the city was made public every one of the ten or twelve visitors present was given an opportunity to talk. In fact, Mayor Crabtree said that it was the announced policy of this administration to encourage the presence of citizens and to afford every possible opportunity for discussion of affairs relating to the city council.

The special session was arranged for the purpose of presenting the financial statement made by Price, Waterhouse and Co., and a general summary signed by the mayor and aldermen. This statement of the council is printed in an adjoining column and presents the financial facts in a clear way. It is the definite statement of the council that there is a floating debt of $131,000 that the year is certain to show some deficit in current expenses although rigid economy is being practiced, and further that the council wishes the advice and counsel of the public.

Study the Figures.

Citizens are urged by the council to study the financial facts presented then to ask questions on any matter which is not clear, and if will be the pleasure of the mayor and aldermen to seek to give the desired facts. It is the council's wish to have the records of this city constitute an open book with the citizens familiar with those facts which the pages hold.

Among the citizens present last night were W. C. Howe, Dr. E. F. Baker, E. F. Johnston, W. R. Mason, C. E. Nyman, E. G. Saye, Thomas Stevenson, W. H. Slater, M. C. Hook and Roland Stice.

Mayor Crabtree called on each of these men and as a result there was a general discussion in which the visitors and the aldermen took part. If the people agree that the floating debt should be paid by the issuance of bonds, the council will earnestly support the program. If the people desire to further curtail public service and lessen the promised year's deficit of $16,000 the council will endeavor to carry out that policy. In other words, the council does not wish to shift responsibility but does feel that the wishes of the people should be expressed so that the will of the majority may be carried out. All of the citizens who spoke took the view that there is little use of talking about the future until something definite has been done about discharging the city's debt. Must Pay Obligation.

It is recognized that this obligation must be paid and citizens last night seemed to be of one mind that there is no way to pay this obligation except by the issuance of bonds. Aside from the mere matter of honesty there were several reasons urged as to why this course should be followed. Those persons who have claims against the city can readily file suit and secure judgment. If there should be any general action of this kind court costs would pile up and the city would find itself in a very embarrassing situation. As a matter of law it was stated that should some creditor of the city push his claim the city could be forced into levying a tax sufficient to discharge this floating debt in one year's time. This would certainly be much more disturbing for the property owners than to pay the debt on the installment plan thru the issuance of bonds.

Altogether the discussion last night was of a very interesting kind. The resolution was adopted on motion of Alderman Cain with a second by Alderman Ehnie, in which councilmen on their own account and on behalf of the city expressed thanks to Price, Waterhouse & Co., for making the financial statement without cost to the city.

STATEMENT BY THE COUNCIL

To the Citizens of Jacksonville:

In accordance with an early promise made the people of Jacksonville, the city council arranged for a financial statement of the city's affairs by Price-Waterhouse & Co., certified public accountants. This statement is not an audit and the purpose in having it prepared was to be able to present to the public in as concise and accurate a way as possible the exact facts about the financial affairs of Jacksonville.

Reference to the summarized statement and to the more detailed statement by the accountants, shows that when the present city administration entered upon its duties that the net amount of the city's debts, exclusive of bonds, was $131,142.77. In the figures presented the accountants, following the usual and proper method, have shown anticipation warrants as a liability of the city and have taken into account the amount due from taxation, altho not immediately collectible.

If the anticipation warrants of 1919, which will be paid from the taxes of 1920, are omitted from the financial accounting, the total floating debt of the city as of May 1, 1919, was $131,933.49. This sum total is made up of approved bills held by the Ayers National Bank to the amount of $30,496.81; approved bills held by employees, merchants and others, $96,936.68; with interest of $4,500 due Ayers National Bank on anticipation warrants and bills.

What About the Debt?
The important question which now faces the public and the city council is what shall be done to discharge this floating debt of $131,933.49. It is very apparent from a study of the figures that the debt cannot be paid from current revenues, for those figures show that the revenues will not be sufficient to take care of even the current expenses, and even by using the most rigid economy it is quite certain that for the year 1919 on the basis of the tax rate which has prevailed expenses will exceed the revenues by $16,481.49. The reference to strict economy is based on actual figures.

One of the first acts of the present administration was to cut off the 20 per cent added to the salaries of city employees and provide the means for paying the employees in cash.

The 20 per cent had been added by the previous council so that employees might discount their warrants in order to secure the money, but only in rare cases were employees able to secure the cash even with the 20 per cent discount allowed.

The change made will mean a saving of $5,000 per year. By reason of the fact that various city officials now are serving without pay, a saving of $8,800 per year will be made by comparison with the city's previous expense. These two sums mean a saving of $13,800. But even taking these facts into account, a careful estimate shows that the shortage for the year will be at least $16,481. Add this to the already heavy floating debt and one can readily see how serious is the financial condition of Jacksonville. Very evidently some means must be provided for increasing revenues or the service given the public must be curtailed to such an extent that the expense can be further reduced by $16,481.

In considering the expenses of the city it should be borne in mind that during recent years the city's cost of doing business has doubled just in the same way as has been true of private individuals. The expense budget which shows a shortage of $16,481 for the year does not by any means contemplate providing all the service to which the public is entitled and which should be afforded in cities of the size of Jacksonville.

Needs are Many

The facts given below will show that the fire and police departments as now constituted do not afford adequate protection. A great deal of work should be done on both paved and earth streets, not only to put them into proper condition but in order to prevent absolute loss. The city is without lights in the residence district after 10 o'clock and there are streets without lights simply because the city has not had the money with which to buy bulbs. The city hall building is badly in need of repair and the time is very near at hand when something must be done about the city dumping ground, and provision made for sanitary garbage disposal.

The city council is desirous of laying all the facts before the people of this city, and after the public has been fully acquainted with conditions, will seek to carry out the wishes of the people.

The problems are to provide for the heavy floating debt; to make current revenues and current expenditures meet; to provide, possible, better public service for the citizens of Jacksonville. What the council wants now is advice and information. It wants the people of Jacksonville to speak out and let the council know whether a miserly hand to mouth policy shall be followed in providing public service, or whether the people prefer a larger expenditure and an adequate public service.

Fire Department.

The fire department is as efficient as a chief and seven men can make it. For adequate fire protection there should be twelve men in the department, in addition to the chief.

Sewers.

The sewer system of the city is in a deplorable state. The catch basins have not been cleaned for several years. Some of them are full almost to the top. The goose necks in many of them have been broken and should be renewed.

Paved Streets.

In order to keep in passable and safe condition, the paved streets of the city should be a maintenance fund. Good business suggests this, if no other reason did. If small depressions in our street pavements are repaired as quickly as they appear the life of our pavements will be greatly increased and thousands of dollars saved for property owners.

Earth Streets.
Recent grading made possible by a fund contributed by public spirited citizens has improved some of the earth streets of the city. However, the work which can be done from this fund is only a small part of that which the conditions warrant. These streets need grading badly not only to make them more passable for travel, but as a matter of sanitation. The gutters are filled up and culverts in need of repair. As a matter of safety and economy concrete culverts should take the place of those of wooden construction.

Street Cleaning.
Because of this same lack of funds the paved streets of the city are not kept clean. Dust and dirt not only detract from the comfort of the people but do damage to property and are menaces to health.

Police Department.
The present force includes a chief and five men. The chief, in addition to his other duties, is caring for the work at desk sergeant. There are two desk troopers, a desk sergeant and two night patrolmen. The force is inadequate as a matter of protection for the lives and property of citizens. A larger force would provide for the proper patrolling of the residence and business districts thru the night hours and care for the various duties that come up daily.

City Hall.

The city hall building is in bad condition. Aside from the cleaning it needs, the downfalls and guttering are in a bad state of repair, the brick walls need pointing in many places and some other work must be done on the foundation. This is essential in order to avoid more expensive repairs later on.

Lighting.

There are at least 100 places about the city where lamps are needed and not now used because there has been no money for their purchase. It will not be long until the boilers will have to be renewed.

Garbage Disposal.

Year after year the question of a city dumping ground has come up for attention and it is only matter of time before some definite steps must be taken to relieve conditions there. Additional space must be provided for burying the rubbish taken to the grounds, or an incinerating plant must be constructed. We have not investigated what this will cost.

Water Department.

The gross returns from the water department run to large figures and with the addition to the department now being made there is every prospect of increased consumption and larger revenue. However, this will mean the construction of additional mains and the expense must be provided for.

Anticipation Warrants.

In common with many other cities, the practice of anticipating taxes of each year's short time has been long followed in Jacksonville. This action, while legal, we believe is very unfortunate for cities and tends to extravagance. Anticipation merely mortgages the future. We believe that if by some means Jacksonville can pay her floating debt, get on to a cash basis and do away with the plan of anticipating taxes, that eventually the city's expenditures could be greatly reduced and more secured for every dollar expended.

It is the cash buyer that always has the advantage, whether the buyer be a city or an individual. The budget system should be adopted and the departments required to stay within the budget.

Facts and Conditions

Now, citizens of Jacksonville, you have the financial facts and you know the conditions that face this city. It is up to you to let the city council know what your wishes are in the matter, the policies that you would like to see followed. Too often in the past a majority of the citizens have elected officials and then left the matter of city government entirely to those officials. We believe that as long as that policy is followed, just so long will the management of city affairs be likely to be unsatisfactory to the majority.

When this administration began it was stated repeatedly that its only hope for success was thru the interest of the people. We have let it be known that your advice and counsel are wanted—that the affairs of the city are not simply our affairs but officers and citizens have joint responsibility. We are in full partnership. The war has taught us that working unitedly we can do anything, working singly or pulling apart we can do nothing.

The present city officials are working unitedly without compensation, in the belief that citizens will feel it a matter of duty to work with us, and so that this joint effort to bring about the desired conditions for Jacksonville. Thus far our reliance on citizens has not been in vain. A fine spirit of public service—a willingness to make personal sacrifice for the public good—has been apparent.

The figures of the financial statement are before you, and the question for citizens to decide is: What do you wish your city officials to do?

People Urged to Talk.

Read the statement carefully. Ask members of the council questions about any matter you do not understand. Talk about the statement in your homes, lodges, churches, labor unions. Make it your business to thoroughly understand the true condition of city finances. Then you will be ready to make up your mind as to what is the best course to follow and be able to give the council the benefit of your advice and judgment.

We have shown that this administration has materially cut down expenses, but that there will still be a deficit for the year. The figures show a great floating debt which must be paid by some means. We want your advice and opinion as to how the city is to meet the emergency. In other words, in what way shall we clean the financial slate for Jacksonville, and get the city on a cash basis so that the city receives 100 cents of value for every dollar expended. The council is fully determined to keep the expenditures within the revenues, and what we are asking from citizens is their advice and their suggestions as to the best manner of putting the city on the cash basis where it belongs.

the treaty, brought by him in person from Versailles.

No Attempt at Oratory.

There was no attempt at oratory and no applause interrupted the address. Nearly every senator was in his seat and all listened attentively. Afterward his supporters were unstinted in their praise for the president's words, while those opposed either declined to comment or declared he had dealt only in unsatisfactory generalities.

In his talks afterward with league supporters, the president was said to have discussed at length the Shantung and Irish questions. He was quoted as saying he was not satisfied with the treaty provision giving Shantung to Japan, but as declaring there was an informal understanding among the peace delegates that eventually Japan must make an acceptable agreement with China in the matter. He was represented as expressing confidence that Japan would deal rightly in the final settlement.

Discussing the failure of the peace conference to receive the representatives of Irish-American organizations on behalf of Irish freedom, Mr. Wilson was said to have told senators that the representatives had identified themselves with the revolutionary element in Ireland and that it became impossible to receive them. He was quoted as saying that both he and David Lloyd George, the British premier, had been anxious to arrange for a hearing.

The decision not to bind Germany to a definite indemnity, the president was reported to have said, was reached over his protest. He was quoted as saying he consented to the indeterminate plan to help Premier Lloyd George over domestic obstacles.

Flume Not Mentioned.

It was said the question of Flume was not mentioned. In talking to the senators the president was said to have taken a firm stand against any reservations in the senate's ratification of the treaty. It was asserted he would not be disposed kindly even toward interpretative reservations to make the senate's position clear pointing out that there always might be doubt as to whether any particular reservation really were innocuous or would vitiate some league principle.

The president also was quoted as saying he believed a two-thirds majority would be necessary to write any reservations into the ratification resolution, but it was said afterward that he probably meant that the reservations, once a part of the resolution would have to have the support of two thirds of the senators to secure action when the ratification vote was taken.

Among senate leaders the impression has been that only a simple majority would be required to amend the ratification resolution and the president's reported statement met a sharp denial from opposition senators who cited a senate rule providing that in considering treaties two thirds shall be required for ratification but only a majority on all other "motions and questions" involved. Regarding the proposed reservation under which the senate would declare the nation could not enter war under article ten without a war declaration by congress Mr. Wilson was reported to have declared such a stipulation unnecessary. He was quoted as saying that the constitutional inability of the United States to make war without a congressional declaration was one of the reasons why the league council was authorized only "to advise" as to the steps to be taken.

In all the president's visit to the capitol occupied less than two hours. Arriving shortly after noon, he went to his office, adjoining the senate chamber and at 12:15 was escorted to the vice president's desk by five senior members of the foreign relations committee. The applause following his appearance had continued for two minutes when Vice President Marshall rapped for order and the president began speaking.

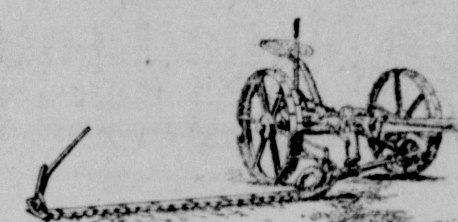

The address required 39 minutes and at its conclusion, while the senate and galleries stood and applauded, he was escorted from the chamber by the specially designated foreign relations committee members.

He left for the white house at 1:45 p. m. Mrs. Wilson and the president's daughter, Miss Margaret Wilson, were in the gallery during the address. The French ambassador, Jules J. Jusserand, dean of the diplomatic corps, had the unusual privilege of a seat in the president's reserved section and many other foreign diplomats were in the diplomatic gallery.

After the president finished speaking the senate adjourned until Monday when the ratification debate will begin. The foreign relations committee also will meet Monday to begin consideration of the treaty.

XT OF PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS PRESENTING TREATY TO SENATE

some of them that, while it must be attempted, the formation of such a league was perhaps a counsel of perfection which practical men, long experienced in the world of affairs, must agree to very cautiously and with many misgivings. It was only as the difficult work of arranging an all but universal adjustment of the world's affairs advanced from day to day from one stage of conference to another that it became evident to them that what they were seeking would be little more than something written upon paper to be interpreted and applied by such methods as the chances of politics might make available if they did not provide a means of common counsel which all were obliged to accept, a common authority whose decisions would be recognized as decisions which all must respect.

Turn More and More to League.
"And so the most practical, the most skeptical among them turned more and more to the league as the authority through which international action was to be secured, the authority without which as they had come to see it would be difficult to give assured effect either to this treaty or to any other international understanding upon which they were to depend for the maintenance of peace. The fact that the league was the first substantive part of the treaty to be worked out and agreed upon while all else was in solution, helped to make the formulation of the rest easier. The conference was, after all, not to be ephemeral. The concert of nations was to continue, under a definite covenant which had been agreed upon and which all were convinced was workable. They could go forward with confidence to make arrangements intended to be permanent. The most practical of the conferees were at last the most ready to refer to the league of nations the superintendence of all interests which did not admit of immediate determination of all administrative problems which were to require a continuing oversight. What had seemed a counsel of perfection had come to seem a plain counsel of necessity. The league of nations was the practical statesman's hope of success in many of the most difficult things he was attempting.

"And it had validated itself in the thought of every member of the conference as something much bigger, much greater every way than a mere instrument for carrying out the provisions of a particular treaty. It was universalized recognized that all the peoples of the world demanded of the conference that it should create such a continuing concert of free nations as would make wars of aggression and spoliation such as this that has just ended forever impossible. A cry had gone out from every home in every stricken land from which sons and brothers and fathers had gone forth to the great sacrifice that such a sacrifice should never be enacted. It was manifest why it had been exacted. It had been exacted because one nation desired dominion and other nations had known no means of defense except armaments and alliances. War had lain at the heart of every arrangement of the Europe of every arrangement of the world—that preceded the war.

People Knew They Had Been Led
Restive peoples had been told that fleets and armies, which they toiled to sustain, meant peace; and they now knew that they had been lied to; that fleets and armies, had been maintained to promote national ambitions and meant war. They knew that no old policy meant anything else but force, force—always force. And they knew that it was intolerable. Every true heart in the world and every enlightened judgment demanded that, at whatever cost of independent action, every government that took thought for its people or for justice or for ordered freedom should lend itself to a new purpose and attempt to destroy the old order of international policies. Statesmen might see difficulties but the people could see none and could brook no denial. A war in which they had been bled white to beat the terror that lay concealed in every balance of power must not end in a mere victory of arms and a new balance. The monster that had resorted to arms must be put in chains that could not be broken. The united power of free nations must put a stop to aggression and the world must be given peace. If there was not the will or the intelligence to accomplish that now, there must be another and a final war and the world must be swept clean of every power that could renew the terror. The league of nations was not merely an instrument to adjust and remedy old wrongs under a new treaty of peace; it was the only hope for mankind. Again and again had the demon of war been cast out of the house of the peoples and the house swept clean by a treaty of peace; only to prepare a time when he would enter in again with spirits worse than himself. The house must now be given a tenant who could hold it against all such. Convenient, indeed, indispensable as statesmen found the newly planned league of nations to be for the execution of present plans of peace and reparation, they saw it in a new aspect before their work was finished. They saw it as the main object of peace as the only thing that could complete it or make it worth while. They saw it as the hope of the world and that hope they did not dare to disappoint. Shall we or any other free people hesitate to accept this great task? Dare we reject it and break the heart of the world?

Encountered Many Difficulties.
"And so the result of the conference of peace, so far as Germany is concerned stands complete. The difficulties encountered were very many. Sometimes they seemed insuperable. It was impossible to accommodate the interests of so great a body of nations—in which was directly or indirectly affected almost every nation in the world—without many minor compromises. The treaty, as a result is not exactly what we would have written. It is probably not what any one of the national delegations would have written. But results were worked out which the whole bear test. I think that it will be found that the compromises which were accepted as inevitable nowhere cut to the heart of any principle. The work of the conference squares, as a whole, with the principles agreed upon as the basis of the peace as well as with the practical possibilities of the international situations, which had to be faced and dealt with as facts.

"I shall presently have occasion today before you a special treaty with France, whose object is the temporary protection of France from unprovoked aggression by the power with whom this treaty of peace has been negotiated. Its terms link it with this treaty. I take the liberty, however of reserving it for special explanation on another occasion.

America's Role Determined.
"The role which America was to play in the conference seemed determined, as I have said, before my colleagues and I got to Paris—determined by the universal expectations of the nations whose representatives drawn from all quarters of the globe, we were to deal with. It was universally recognized that America had entered the war to promote no private or peculiar interest of her own, but only as the champion of right which she was glad to share with free men and lovers of justice everywhere.

"We had formulated the principles upon which the settlement was to be made—the principles upon which the armistice had been agreed to and the parleys of peace undertaken—and no one doubted that our desire was to see the treaty of peace formulated along the actual lines of those principles—and desired nothing else. We were welcomed as disinterested friends. We were respected as arbiters in many a difficult matter. It was recognized that our material aid would be indispensable in the days to come when industry and credit would have to be brought back to their normal operations again and communities beaten to the ground assisted to their feet once more, and it was taken for granted, I am proud to say, that we would play the helpful friend in these things as in all others without prejudice or favor. We were generously accepted as the unaffected champions of what was right. It was a very responsible role to play; but I am happy to report that the fine group of America—who helped with their expert advice in each part of the varied settlements sought in every transaction to justify the high confidence reposed in them.

"And that confidence it seems to me is the measure of our opportunity and of our duty in the days to come, in which the new hope of the peoples of the world is to be fulfilled or disappointed. The fact that America is the friend of the nations whether they be rivals or associates is no new fact. It is only the discovery of it by the rest of the world that is new.

receiving us as their mentors and guides. Our isolation was ended twenty years ago; and now fear of it ended, also our counsel and association sought after and desired. There can be no question of our ceasing to be a world power. The only question is whether we can refuse the moral leadership that is offered us whether we shall accept or reject the confidence of the world.

Was Duty to Join.
"The war and the conference of peace now sitting in Paris seem to me to have answered that question. Our participation in the war established our position among nations and nothing but our own mistaken action can alter it. It was not an accident nor a matter of sudden choice that we are no longer isolated and devoted to a policy which has only our own interest and advantage for its object. It was our duty to join if we were indeed the champions of liberty and of right. We answered to the call of duty in a way so spirited, so utterly without thought of what we spent of blood or treasure, so effective, so worthy of the admiration of true men everywhere, so wrought out of the stuff of all that was heroic, that the whole world saw at last, in the flesh, in noble action, a great ideal asserted and vindicated, by a nation which had seemed material and now found to be compact of the spiritual forces that must free of every nation from every unworthy bondage. It is thus that a new role and a new responsibility have come to this great nation that we honor and which we would all wish to lift to yet higher levels of success and achievement.

"The stage is set the destiny disclosed. It has come about by no plan of our conceiving, but by the hand of God who led us into this way. We cannot turn back. We can only go forward, with lifted eyes and a freshened spirit to follow the vision. It was of this that we dreamed at our birth. America shall in truth show the way. The light streams upon the path ahead, and nowhere else."

ASKS GRAND JURY PROBE CAUSE OF RIOT

CHICAGO, July 10.—Grand jury investigation of the riot and shooting Tuesday night when special guards and strikers clashed at the plant of the Corn Products Refining company at Argo, a suburb, which cost three lives was asked of the state's attorney today by Joseph E. Conas, president of the local union to which many of the strikers belong.

The strikers accuse Charles Johannes, chief of the special police, with starting the shooting and allege that none of the strikers had fired arms. Officials of the company have charged that the strikers attacked the guards.

Dr. Joseph Springer, corner's physician, after examination of the body of Kasimer Bittatis, who died today said the bullet recovered were not of the same calibre as that of Johannes' revolver.

While F. H. Sayre, superintendent of the plant, claimed that the strike practically was ended and that employees were applying for their old jobs. Banas declared all the men still were out and would continue their demand for a closed shop.

WASHINGTON, July 10.—President Wilson today accepted the resignation of Edward N. Hurley as chairman of the shipping board effective August 1. It is understood that Mr. Hurley will be succeeded by John Barton Payne, of Chicago, general counsel of the railroad administration whose nomination as a member of the shipping board was sent to the senate today.

Both Mr. Hurley's letter of resignation and the President's letter accepting it were dated July 10. In his letter, Chairman Hurley said:

"I feel that my own work has been done. In handing you my resignation please let me express my heartfelt appreciation of your constant aid, counsel and sympathetic cooperation. Your leadership has been an inspiration to all who have served under you."

President Wilson's letter said Mr. Hurley had served the country with distinction in these difficult times.

"No one ever served his country's interests more devotedly than you did," the President continued, "and personally I am deeply grateful to you."

Mr. Hurley after a three months vacation will become a business adviser to small manufacturers and industrial operators.

A Buick Motor

The Buick Valve-in-Head motor is, first of all, a clean-cut motor. It acts cleanly, it concentrates, it becomes more efficient — because the cylinders of this motor are true cylinders — they have no side-pockets, no by-ways through which to lose power.

The full force of the explosion acts on the piston-head, where it conserves power. After each piston stroke the cylinders clear themselves of dead gas, so that they are filled with all fresh gas for each succeeding explosion.

Financial Statement of The City of Jacksonville

(Prepared by Price, Waterhouse & Co.)

E. E. Crabtree,
Mayor, City of Jacksonville, Illinois.

At your request we have prepared this report upon the accounts of the City of Jacksonville together with the schedules appended hereto, viz:

Statement of Current Financial Position as at April 30, 1919. (Exhibit I.)

General revenue and expense account. (Exhibit II.)

Expenses for the four months ending April 30, 1919, and estimated expenses for the eight months ending December 31, 1919. (Exhibit III.)

The records kept by the city have been somewhat incomplete and the figures appearing in these exhibits are therefore, in some instances subject to change. For present purposes, however, they may be accepted as substantially correct. The accounts have not been audited by us, our work having been confined to the preparation of this report and the attached statements in accordance with the books and other data furnished for the purpose by the city clerk.

Statement of Current Financial Position.

Exhibit I sets forth the current assets and current liabilities of the city as at April 30, 1919. This exhibit is not a complete balance sheet, since a balance sheet of the city should set forth, in addition to current assets and liabilities,

(a) The capital assets (including water works, lighting plant, parks, city hall and all other properties, owned by the city.)

(c) The local improvement assessment accounts and other funds and the liabilities incurred in connection therewith.

These capital items have never been completely recorded on the books and as they have no bearing upon the current revenue or revenue deficit they have not been included in the accounts at present under discussion. It might, however, be well to mention that the city has at present capital liabilities outstanding aggregating $38,000.00 which are being liquidated by special taxation. In addition thereto a bond issue of $75,000.00 recently authorized for water works extensions is also to be liquidated by a special tax levy.

Referring briefly to the local improvement accounts it should be stated that a list of these was prepared from the records but the assets listed thereon, which should at all times be exactly equal to the liabilities, are greatly in excess of the liabilities for the bonds outstanding. It is apparent, of course, that there are some inaccuracies in the records of the local improvement accounts. A detailed investigation of the transactions relative to these accounts should be made and the true condition of each account ascertained.

Uncollected Taxes.

The taxes of $51,813.64 for the year 1918 are now being collected. The amount of the uncollected taxes payable during 1918 and prior has not yet been determined. These, if of any substantial amount, should of course be included in the accounts as an asset.

Water Bills.

The water bills of $3,500.00 for the month of April, 1919, practically all of which was collected during the month of May, have been taken up in the balance sheet.

Cash in Hands of Treasurer.

The cash in the hands of the treasurer is stated as $7,075.81, as per the records kept by the city clerk. A small difference has existed for some time between the balance of this discount and the amount reported on hand by the city treasurer.

The city clerk's records pertaining to the cash accounts for the local improvement and other funds are also, in a number of instances, not in agreement with the treasurer's records. These discrepancies should be adjusted.

Estimated Taxes for 1919 (Proportion to Date)

There has been included in the attached balance sheet estimated taxes accrued for the four months ending April 30, 1919, of $17,271.21. This sum, although not collectible until 1920, represents an asset of the city and is estimated on the basis of the tax levy of $51,813.64 for the year 1918.

Loans in Anticipation of 1918 and 1919 Taxes

The outstanding loans made in anticipation of the 1918 and 1919 taxes, $39,638.84 and $39,306.10 respectively, are stated on the balance sheet as current liabilities of the city.

Warrants Outstanding. Sundry Creditors

All outstanding warrants have been included in the sum of $6,659.25.

For the purpose of setting forth the financial condition of the city as regards the current assets and current liabilities it was necessary to ascertain the amount of the unrecorded liabilities represented by invoices, etc., in the hands of the city clerk which had not yet been approved for payment. These are stated in the balance sheet under the heading of sundry creditors.

Revenue Deficit

The revenue deficit of $131,142.77 is represented by the difference between the total current liabilities of $210,878.43 and the total current assets of $79,735.66 as per Exhibit I. It is impossible to ascertain from the records how much of the deficit of $131,142.77 has been incurred in recent years without making a detailed examination of the transactions. However, by referring to Exhibit II it will be seen that the expenses for the four months ending April 30, 1919, exceeded the total revenue by the sum of $8,773.92.

General Revenue and Expense Account

In preparing the revenue and expense account (Exhibits II and III) credit has been taken for municipal taxes of $17,271.21 (one-third of the year's estimated taxes of $51,813.64) and so far as could be ascertained, all expenses for the four months ending April 30, 1919, whether paid or not, have been included.

The estimated revenue and expenses for the eight months ending December 31, 1919, have also been included in these statements. It will be noted that:

(a) The revenue deficit for the four months ending April 30, 1919, amounts to $8,773.92.

(b) The estimated revenue deficit for the eight months ending December 31, 1919, is $7,707.57.

(c) The estimated revenue deficit for the year 1919 is $16,481.49.

While the total expenses for the year 1919 aggregate $115,055.34 (including the estimate of $73,700.00 for the eight months ending December 31, 1919) it should be pointed out that the appropriations made for the various items as set forth in Exhibit III amount to $143,500.00.

General

In reviewing the financial outlook of the city as shown by these accounts it will be seen that the operations for the current year will certainly result in a loss unless it is possible to carry on the affairs of the city for the remainder of the year so that the actual expenditures will amount to approximately $16,500.00 less than the estimated expenses of $73,700.00 (Exhibit III).

It might be well to point out the necessity of restricting expenses as nearly as possible in accordance with available revenues. Moreover, some radical steps will be necessary immediately to reduce the present disproportion between the city's debts and its assets and to place the city on a sounder financial basis.

One of the first requirements is to eliminate the present practice of making appropriations greatly in excess of the expected revenues. A budget system should be established under which the revenues to be collected each year would be carefully estimated and these revenues appropriated and apportioned to the different departments of the city. Thereafter the expenditures of each department should be restricted within those appropriations, even at the expense of curtailing the activities and scope of the departments.

Yours faithfully,

Price, Waterhouse & Co.

TO FORT MADISON

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Osborne of East College avenue and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hopkins and daughter, Miss Lois, returned last evening from a very pleasant motor trip to Fort Madison, Iowa.

The party left Wednesday morning and visited Mr. and Mrs. Osborne's son, Russell and Mr. Hopkins' brother, Clarence, both of whom are employed at the new auto tire factory in Fort Madison. Coming home yesterday the tourists saw evidences of Wednesday night's storm all along the way. Much damage was evident in the vicinity of Rushville and Beardstown. Mr. Osborne stated that when they came thru Rushville and Beardstown yesterday afternoon that the streets were almost impassable as they had not yet been cleared of the limbs and debris blown down by the storm. Wheat and oat shocks were leveled and haycock played generally thruout that section. The travelers were much relieved on reaching Morgan county to find the damage here no so great.

MAJORS AND MINORS BREAK RELATIONS

CHICAGO, July 10.—All relations between the major and minor baseball leagues were definitely broken off at a meeting today of a committee representing the National Association of Minor Leagues. The committee adopted resolutions ratifying the action taken at the joint meeting with the major leagues in New York last January when the national agreement was abrogated.

The minor leagues will operate independently of the major leagues and will attempt to settle all disputes within their own organization instead of appealing to the national commission for final decision or review of any case.

Those attending today's meeting were:
David L. Fultz, president of the International league; Walter Morris, president of the Texas League; Thomas J. Hickey, president of the American Association and A. R. Torney, president of the Western and Three I Leagues.

MISS VIRGIN AT CASS COUNTY HOME

Work of Former I. W. C. Student Wins Favorable Comment From Art Critics in Great Metropolitan—His Student at Art Students' League in New York City.

Miss Norma L. Virgin was one of an auto party which motored over from Virginia Wednesday for a brief visit with friends in this city. Miss Virgin returned two weeks since from New York City, where she has been spending the past year as a student at the Art Students' League. Her work there has been under the direction of F. R. Gruger, one of the most prominent illustrators of the country. Miss Virgin will spend the summer with relatives in Cass county and expects to leave in the fall to resume her studies in New York.

While a student in the art department at Illinois Woman's College Miss Virgin's work attracted a great deal of favorable attention. Since leaving the local institution her studies have been pursued at the Art Institute in Chicago and at Cooper Institute in New York. After completing the course at the latter institution Miss Virgin returned to this city and for a year was assistant to Miss Knopf, head of the art course at the Woman's college.

Some of Miss Virgin's illustrations have appeared in the Ladies' Home Journal, McClure's and in other publications of equal importance. Just now two books are being issued by New York publishing houses each containing illustrations done by Miss Virgin. Her work has elicited favorable comment from many metropolitan art critics, and in the opinion of those qualified to judge, Miss Virgin is destined to become one of the foremost illustrators of the country.

WILL LEAVE TONIGHT FOR NEW YORK CITY.

She will spend some time there with Mr. Korner, who is still in navy service and later will proceed to her home at Winston-Salem, North Carolina.

Miss Zelma Tarkington of Chesterfield is now employed as clerk at the store of the C. C. Phelps Dry Goods Co.

SKIN HEALTH ESSENTIAL TO BODILY HEALTH

It is just as necessary to keep the outside of the body protected against germs and infection as it is the inside.

Many diseases are transmitted through the pores of the skin. Many serious infections come from the lack of proper skin care.

The best of skin protection is cleanliness. And cleanliness—de-actual, honest cleanliness—demands use of clean, pure soap. You can't keep the skin clean and in a healthful condition when you clog the pores with impure soap.

Remmo Sterilized Toilet Soap is the purest and best Toilet Soap that can be manufactured. It is made exclusively of the purest and most excellent ingredients of greatest cleansing quality. Then these ingredients are sterilized at 198 degrees Fahrenheit. There can be no impurities in Remmo Sterilized Toilet Soap. It cleanses the skin hygienically. Its soft, creamy lather removes all dirt, all accumulations from the pores of the skin. It leaves the skin—the surface of it down to the very depths of the pores—thoroughly clean, refreshed, invigorated. A state of cleanliness that establishes a degree of resistance against ailments that might arise through improperly cared for skin—and with it that desirable pink-and-white quality of complexion that can be acquired only through proper skin care.

Remmo Sterilized Toilet Soap is not a medicated soap—not a soap for emergency use—but an everyday toilet soap of greatest soap purity.—adv.

WALTER KAMP HAS GAINED 33 POUNDS

Milwaukee Man Declares His Wife Is Also Wonderfully Benefitted by Taking Taniae

"My wife is taking Taniae, too, and without going into detail about her case I'll just say the way it has benefitted her is almost as remarkable as the results I have gotten from it," said Walter K. Kamp, a valued employee of the Milwaukee Paper Box Company, living at 673 33rd street, Milwaukee, recently.

"As for what Taniae has done for me," explained Mr. Kamp, "a few bottles have put me in shape to where I have actually gained thirty-three pounds and I have gotten rid of a case of stomach trouble that had made life miserable for me for a year or more. I had not been able to eat a square meal in months but what my stomach would get as sour as vinegar and I would bloat up with gas at night as a drum. I was constantly belching up this sour gas and undigested food and would turn almost deathly sick at times. About ten o'clock every morning my head would commence aching and keep it up all day long making me feel so miserable that I could hardly do my work, and nearly all my energy and most of my strength had left me."

"I had reached the point where I felt that I could go no further and had made up my mind to give up my job as I simply could not work in such a condition. Well I happened to think of how Taniae had helped one of the men who works where I do. I could see for myself how he had improved, so I got a bottle and the second week after I began taking it I was feeling like a different man. My food seems to digest perfectly now, as I never have a pain or an uncomfortable feeling and I can eat just anything set before me. I don't know what it is to have a headache or get tired and worn out any more and, really, I have never felt better in my life. I certainly owe a good deal to Taniae and I feel so thankful for what it has done for myself and wife that I am glad to give this statement to be used in telling others know what a great medicine it is."

Taniae is sold in Jacksonville by Coover & Shreve; in Meredosia by Mr. R. B. Field; in Murfreesboro by M. E. Gilbert; in Waverly by the Wyle Drug Co.—Adv.

SCHOOL BOARD FIXES THE TAX LEVY TERMS

Special Session Held Thursday Night—Will Raise $85,000 For General Purposes and $75,000 For Building and Repair Fund.

The Board of Education met in regular session at the David Prince school Thursday evening at 8 o'clock with President Lippincott, Secretary Pierson, and Members Rogerson, Duncan, Rapp and Hopper present.

On motion of Member Rapp, seconded by Member Duncan the reading of the minutes of the previous session was dispensed with.

Under the head of finance Member Rogerson read a list of bills payable for June, amounting to a total of $724.85, general fund $264.77 and building and repair fund $460.08.

On motion of Member Rogerson, seconded by Member Rapp the bills were ordered paid, the motion carrying unanimously.

The matter of the tax levy assessment for the coming year then came up for informal discussion by the various members present.

Fix Tax Levy
Member Rogerson read a communication from Superintendent H. A. Perrin suggesting that the tax levy be fixed at $85,000 for education and $50,000 for building and repair fund.

Last year the board asked $70,000 for education and $50,000 for building and repair fund and received a total of $118,000, or $2,000 less than the amount requested. It was suggested by some that the levy simply ask one and one-half per cent for education and one and one-half per cent for building and repair and in that way secure the three per cent to which the board is entitled.

President Lippincott ruled however that definite sums for the two funds must be asked and that the board could not merely levy for the three per cent. Member Rapp then moved that in order to be sure that the board should receive a sufficient amount in view of the fact that the erection of the new high school would be started shortly, that the board's tax levy this year be fixed at $85,000 for education and $75,000 for building and repair. It was stated that while any amount could be asked for only the three per cent would be received and that unless a large sum was requested the board might not receive all that it was entitled to.

Want the Best.
As every one in the city wants the best high school building it is possible to secure the board is in every way attempting to finance the proposition so that this will result.

Member Rogerson said that he was opposed to the motion believing that it was more than the board should ask. He was more in favor of following Supt. Perrin's recommendation in the matter.

Member Thomas Hopper seconded the motion, and on roll call the motion carried four to one. Members Duncan, Hopper, Pierson, and Rapp voting aye, and Member Rogerson voting no.

Member Rapp moved that the secretary be instructed to insert advertisements for inch and one-half lump and two by three egg coal for the board. Member Duncan seconded the motion. Carried unanimously.

Member Rogerson moved that the census report be spread upon the records. Member Hopper seconded the motion which carried unanimously.

Heating Plants Alight.
Under the head of buildings and supplies Member Hopper stated that all of the boilers in the schools of the city had been inspected and that all were in good shape and would stand another year's use as they were.

Member Hopper also read a communication from J. K. C. Pierson stating that all steam and water connections had been completed by Bernard Gause and that the bill for this work was $855. On motion of Member Rapp, seconded by Member Rogerson this bill was referred to the building and grounds committee for a report July 28th. This motion carried unanimously.

On motion of Member Rogerson, seconded by Member Rapp, Mrs. Parker was unanimously chosen by the members to represent the board of education at the meeting of the community council.

On motion of Member Rapp, seconded by Member Duncan the board adjourned to meet Monday evening, July 28th at which time the bids for the new high school building will be received and considered.

Motion for adjournment carried.

CONCORD PICNICERS ENTERTAIN SOLDIERS

Members of Concord M. P. Church Gather Thursday Evening at Nichols Park.

Concord residents to the number of one hundred and fifty gathered at Nichols Park Thursday evening to pay homage to the young men of the church who answered their country's call in the world war.

The weather man had steamed down after his spree of Wednesday eve and everything tended to make the outing a huge success. While it was stated that the affair was planned for the soldier boys yet they were not the only ones who enjoyed the evening. The picnic occasion and had a good time. And from the looks of the tables upon which the ladies of the Concord neighborhood had spread the things to eat it would likely be one's own fault if the evening was not a pleasant one from the standpoint of eatables. It can be stated also that the men in whose honor the affair was arranged did not have to stand in any "mess line" either but enjoyed seats at the head of the table.

There were about eighteen of the members of the Concord M. P. church in the country's service during the war and it was possible for ten of them to attend. The soldiers present last night included: Otto Nickel, Alvin Leeper, Perry Brown, Louis Brown, Marcus Smith, Austin McDermott, Frank McDermott, David Holt, Julius Hacker and Walter Brockhouse.

The committee in charge of the picnic last night was composed of Hester Dietrick, Mrs. Frank Brown and Mrs. Raymond Smith. Rev. C. A. Fairchild is pastor of the church and T. W. Murphy is Sunday school superintendent.

OFFER PARK TO CITY OF CARLINVILLE

Jacksonville Men Make Land Purchase in Macoupin County.

The following item taken from yesterday's Macoupin County Enquirer, published at Carlinville, will be of interest to a number of local people:

Offer Park to City.
The Jacksonville parties, A. J. Hoover & Company, who purchased the 125-acre tract adjoining the city of Carlinville, south of the Burke addition, have offered to donate twenty acres of the land for park purposes.

The tract offered is in the middle of the ground purchased from Mr. Burke, and includes the ravine over which the wagon road crossed before the road was open south of the C. & A. depot along the tracks. It is an ideal location for a park and when the improvement would be made Carlinville would have a beautiful pleasure resort.

"In offering this ground to the city the Jacksonville parties want the city to enter into a contract to improve the ground by laying out roads and building a dam. The park will be wide enough for a roadway that will connect one side of the park with the other. The cost of the dam is estimated at at least $8,000 and the other improvements will take several thousand more.

"Mr. Wells, one of the Jacksonville company, and engineer, who is laying out the ground, met with a few of the city officials Wednesday morning and laid the matter before them. They will also appear before the council at the regular meeting Monday night to formally present their proposition.

"In the mean time, Mayor Daley and the members of the council would like for the citizens to express their opinion as to the advisability of taking over the park.

"This company is already financing a deal by which a factory is to be constructed to produce clay products. The plant when completed will employ several hundred people. The clay is to be shipped from some banks west of White Hall, Illinois. The clay has been tested by the government and is pronounced the best that can be found in this country."

FEDERATION MEETING WILL BE SATURDAY

Error in Date Made in Former Notice—Business Meeting from 11 to 12 o'clock.

Through an error in Thursday's paper, the date of the joint meeting of the Morgan County Federation and the Child Welfare Committee of the County Community Council was given as Friday the 11th instead of Saturday the 12th at the Peacock Inn.

There will be a Board meeting of the Federation from 11 to 12 o'clock to the Board Members of the Federation, the Child Welfare Committee of the County Community Council, the officers of the Medical Association, the Directors and officers of the Anti-Tuberculosis League, and the Nurses who are working in the County.

Miss Coleman will report on the survey made by the Nurses sent here by the Federal Children's Bureau some months ago, headed by Miss Katherine Olmsted, as well as outline the plan for the follow-up work. Dr. McGuire and Mrs. McCabe who are here with the Child Welfare Special will explain the work of the Clinic Truck as it is being carried out now in the county.

Morgan County is particularly fortunate to have such experts here to do this work in the county and we feel confident that the follow-up work, in the hands of Miss Coleman and Miss Austin will be splendidly carried thru. Luncheon will be 75c a plate. The committee in charge of arrangements will appreciate it, if those who expect to attend will ask for reservations by 6 o'clock Friday. Call Ill. phone 517 or Bell 282.

BISHOP NICHOLSON TALKS OF CHURCH INACTIVITY

"The Christian church has a great unutilized, unprepared mass of members. From one half to three fourths of the membership of the Protestant churches are inactive, lacking in social ideals, doing and giving but little," declared Bishop Thomas Nicholson, resident bishop of Chicago, in speaking of the future work of the unit system in the Methodist Centenary campaign, which will give every member in one Methodist church some active service. Bishop Nicholson in speaking of the Centenary propaganda in the Methodist Episcopal church said:

"In nearly every community, especially in the larger cities, a very considerable percentage of the time of every pastor is taken up in searching out the people who have left the church. Men and women move into a community. They do not have interest in the church and its program sufficient to cause them to seek out the church and to become active members. They show an utter lack of appreciation of the value of the church membership. They have been trained all too much, so far as they have had any training on the 'personal safety' plan. They quietly conclude that they can take care of themselves without the church."

"One of the greatest problems of the modern church is to mobilize this force; to get the modern interpretation of New Testament Christianity into the mind of these people; to show them that the church must be one of the great socializing influences; that the church must enter into city life, rural life, and all phases of national life, with genuine, regenerating power. It must be precisely what the Master called it; namely, 'the salt of the earth.'"

BURNING STUBBLE CAUSED EXCITEMENT

Just after the storm started Wednesday evening a lurid light appeared on the sky in the east. There were various conjectures as to what caused it and citizens in all parts of the city called the Journal office to find out what caused it.

Later it was reported that the residence of James Rawlings just at the end of the hard road on the Morton road had burned. All of the telephones were put out of commission by the storm and there was no way of verifying the report.

Thursday Fire Chief Hunt went out to Mr. Rawlings' place and found no damage had resulted to his house or outbuildings. The fire had started in a stubble field adjacent to Mr. Rawlings place. Threshers had been in the field Wednesday and evidently had completed their work but the outfit was still in the field.

The fire burned the stubble off and also set a hedge fence on fire on the opposite side of the road.

Mr. Rawlings said that it looked for a time as though he would lose his residence. A wheat field belonging to T. H. Buckthorpe on the opposite side of the road was in danger for a time, but fortunately escaped damage. It is not known what started the fire.

LEMON JUICE

FOR FRECKLES

Girls! Make beauty lotion for a few cents—Try it!

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white, shake well, and you have a quart pint of the best freckle and tan lotion, and complexion beautifier, at very, very small cost.

Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of orchard white for a few cents. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day and see how freckles and blemishes disappear and how clear, soft and rosy white the skin becomes. Yes! It is harmless and never irritates. —(adv.)

7 A DAY FOR 7 DAYS

If Your Nerves Are Shaky Because of Over-Indulgence in Tobacco or Alcohol or by Excess of Any Kind, Bio-Feren is What You Need Right Away.

Don't grow old before your time, don't let nervousness wreck your happiness or chances in life. The man with strong, steady nerves is full of vigor, energy, ambition and confidence.

You can have nerves of steel, firm step, new courage and keen mind by putting your blood and nerves in first-class shape with mighty Bio-Feren, a new discovery, inexpensive and efficient.

Men and women who get up so tired in the morning that they have to drag themselves to their daily labor will in just a few days rise with clear mind, definite purpose and loads of ambition.

All you have to do is take two Bio-Feren tablets after each meal and one at bedtime—7 a day or 7 days—then reduce to one after each meal until all are gone.

Then if your energy and endurance haven't doubled, if your mind isn't keener and eyes brighter, if you don't feel twice as ambitious as before, any druggist anywhere will return the purchase price—gladly and freely.

Bio-Feren is without doubt the grandest remedy for nervous, run-down, weak, anaemic men and women ever offered and is not at all expensive. All druggists in this city and vicinity have a supply on hand—sell many packages.

FASCINATING TEETH

How Every Woman Can Quickly Charm Her Friends With Lovely Teeth, Clean, White and Brilliant

If you want the cleanest of white teeth and healthy gums free from disease, an easy and quick way to get both is to use a tooth paste so effective and perfect that astonishing results usually come in a week's time.

And the cost is so little. Just go to any drug or department store, and get a large tube of SENECA TOOTH PASTE for 35 cents.

Not only will it make your teeth clean and white, but it will at once remove any filmy coating, help to check the ravages of Pyorrhea and banish acidity in the mouth.

It is used by thousands of dentists and its sale has been remarkable. When you visit your dentist, which you should do at least twice a year, ask him about SENECA. It's a most delightful and refreshing tooth paste.

OUR 39th ANNUAL JULY SALE BEGAN

WEDNESDAY, JULY 9th--ENDS SATURDAY, JULY 19th.

The Sale That is Generally Recognized as One of Jacksonville's Greatest Sales.

Never in all our experience has it been so difficult to prepare for a sale of this kind at this season. That prices are advancing almost daily is a matter of common knowledge. The cost of raw material has doubled in the past four years. The cost of dyeing, too, has more than doubled, and the labor cost in the making has trebled. Under such conditions the gathering together of such a vast collection of dependable merchandise to sell at such sensationally low prices is an achievement of which we feel justly proud.

The prices are so low in the light of the present market, that the values are actually better relatively than those offered in past years.

Important Notice

Because of the great variety and the limited quantity of some kinds, we cannot accept mail or phone orders or make charges in this sale. No goods on approval. We limit amounts in some cases.

For weeks and months past we have scoured the markets, meeting with disappointment at almost every turn. For a time the difficulties seemed insurmountable, but our annual sale must be held and tremendous sacrifices on our part, together with the co-operation of some of America's leading dealers have at last made it possible. Indeed so extraordinary are these offerings that we feel safe in predicting the greatest July Sale in our history. Shrewd buyers will supply their needs for the entire summer and fall in this wonderful sale. We cannot too strongly urge you, therefore, to be on hand early for first selections.
